

What is URIXIN?

URIXIN® has been formulated to help to relieve the urological symptoms associated with Benign Prostatic Hyperplasia (BPH). URIXIN contains standardized saw palmetto with 85-95% sterols and fatty acids (the highest extract of standardized saw palmetto available) and purified plant phytosterols with beta-sitosterols.

What is BPH?

BPH is a non-cancerous enlargement of the prostate. Some common symptoms of BPH include frequent urination, excessive night-time urination, difficulty starting to urinate, or diminished flow.

Why URIXIN?

- To relieve or ameliorate the symptoms associated with Benign Prostatic Hyperplasia (BPH).
- Trusted and recommended by leading Urologists.
- Produced under strict quality control.
- Dosage based on the most recent scientific research findings.

For optimal results, URIXIN should be taken for a minimum period of 3 continuous months, or, as recommended by your physician.

Label Accuracy and Quality

BioAdvantex is pleased to note that a study conducted by Uro-Oncologists at the Toronto Sunnybrook Regional Cancer Centre on commonly used nutritional supplements for prostate health shows that ProVantex products ranked first in label accuracy among the products tested. (Journal of Urology, July 2002)

* Please click on the desired ingredient for a more detailed description

Each capsule contains:
Chaque gélule contient:

Saw palmetto / Chou palmiste

(Serenoa repens) berry extract/ extrait des baies 160 mg
(85-95% sterols and fatty acids/ de stérols et d'acides gras)

Beta-sitosterols / Bêta-sitostérols

(from 60 mg purified plant phytosterols/ 30 mg fait de 60 mg de phytostérols purifiés de plante)

Non-medicinal ingredients / Ingrédients non-médicinaux:

Soybean oil, vitamin E (d-alpha tocopherol), rosemary extract,

Silica, vegetable cellulose derivative (for capsule) / Huile de fève

De soja, vitamine E (tocophérol d-alpha), extrait de romarin, silice, dérivé de cellulose végétale (pour la capsule).

Directions: One capsule twice daily with or without meals or as recommended by a physician.

Quantity: 60 capsules per bottle (one month supply).

URIXIN® does not cause side effects such as erectile dysfunction or decrease of libido.

- Recommended by urologists
- Formulated for effective support of prostate health
- Standardized for quality consistency
- Accurate label claims
- Cost-effective
- Convenient dose